

Clean Air Champions Award Program

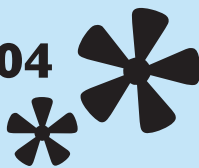

Established in 1992, the Clean Air Champions award program honors individuals whose extraordinary efforts towards clean, healthy air are an inspiration to others. Sponsored by the Bay Area Air Quality Management District—along with such clean air partners as Alice 97.3, the American Lung Association, KCBS All News Radio 740, LIVE 105, RIDES for Bay Area Commuters and the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency—the Clean Air Champion award raises the profile of public awareness by applauding local accomplishments on behalf of clean air.

Who is a Champion?

A Clean Air Champion is an individual from the Bay Area who demonstrates a consistent and inspirational personal commitment towards improving air quality by adopting a less polluting lifestyle. A Clean Air Champion is a person who goes above and beyond in preserving air quality at home, on the job or in the community. Do you know a Clean Air Champion? We want to honor that individual!

Champions are Honored for Their Efforts!

Winners of the Clean Air Champions award will be announced in July and honored at a public presentation at the Bay Area Air Quality Management District headquarters in San Francisco. The Clean Air Champions selection committee is now receiving nominations for the 2004 Clean Air Champions.

 Nominations will be accepted until May 21, 2004

Nomination Instructions

Please fill out the form below and type or print clearly. A thorough description of your nominee’s accomplishments towards clean air is vital to the selection process, so we encourage you to attach a typewritten submission describing why your nominee deserves the Clean Air Champion award. Your comments are the basis for consideration in the selection process so the clearer and more compelling your description, the more helpful it will be for your nominee.
